

Bee a Prairie Pollinator Rain gardener

After months of planning, promoting and grant writing, our Prairie Pollinator Rain Garden expansion will happen soon ... and you're invited to be a part of it!

Encap Inc delivered final plans in late July for our Illinois shaped garden and a PUBLIC planting date will be scheduled once all plant materials are sourced. Volunteers who assist in the planting will receive a "Life's a (Pollinator) Garden" tshirt, Pollinator resource guides and be provided refreshments and lunch on the KCFB lawn under the spreading Sycamore tree. Better yet, they will be helping us improve the environment by installing several water quality management best management practices right along Randall Road in St. Charles.

Given the timing of the PUBLIC Planting Day, we encourage members to visit our website, www.kanecfb.com for updates and to follow us on Facebook at Kane County Farm Bureau. We will post the date and time once they are known and will also publish a Facebook event. Members who respond to this appeal with a name, phone and email will be notified by phone or electronic means of the planting date.

In the words of that sage of popular culture, Joe Dirt, "Life's a Garden, Dig it". We invite you to help us do just that! For more information, contact Steve Arnold at 630-584-8660.

Barn siding siting!

The Kane County Farm Bureau's new "Little Lending Library" made its first appearance at the Kane County Fair. Builder and donor Mike Meuer of Elburn is shown in the photo below with his creation, a 28" x 38" x 50" gambrel-roofed barn with a 5-foot silo attached. Meuer built the cedar lined, 2 shelf library from his own design and donated his labor and the materials for its construction! It will soon be placed on 6" posts on a concrete pad under the windmill at the Kane County Farm Bureau for members and the public to drive by and borrow books about agriculture farms and food. See more photos on page 7.

Little Lending Library builder Mike Meuer of Elburn poses next to his creation. If you can donate farming or food books to the new library, let us know. We'd be delighted to add them to the catalog.

County to propose text amendments for farms, local food businesses

The Kane County Development & Community Services Department is working to advance the Kane County Board's "Growing for Kane Program" by proposing text amendments to the Kane County Zoning Ordinance. The proposed amendments are intended to be responsive to the changing needs of farmers and local food businesses in Kane County and to streamline administrative approvals for permits.

The proposed amendments will provide several new definitions that address the County's growing agritourism industry. The goals of the amendments are to make it easier for local growers to sell their products directly to consumers as well as for consumers to access healthy food products and share in the farm experience through direct sales, activities, entertainment and events.

Kane County has seen an increase in proposed agricultural venues integrated with working farms. The Kane County Zoning Ordinance does not currently define and include these emerging uses. By creating new definitions and listing them in the appropriate zoning districts, the amendments will provide farmers and policy makers with clear paths for evaluating and potentially approving these uses where appropriate in the agricultural and other areas. The draft amendments will also explicitly allow certain less intensive agritourism uses as permitted uses, thereby only requiring a permit to safely establish the use rather than going through a rezoning process.

The Development Department has also worked with multiple farmers looking to build farmstands to sell their goods directly to the public, only to find that their reasonable requests were not in compliance with the current zoning language. While one local grower was recently approved for a (continued on page 6)

KCFB got a visit from Amy and Peter Hammond of St. Charles on a late June morning. Peter had woken up with the urge to get a new tractor, so to KCFB they came to shop the KCFB Country Store. Peter, who visited life-size tractors in April at our Touch-A-Tractor event, added to his pintsized tractor collection with a John Deere tractor and grain wagon and a New Holland CR8.90 combine.

When asked his age, Peter commented that he is "still very 3," and his mom mentioned that they were continuing their day by visiting a local farm and perhaps, sitting on a life size tractor.

Thank you, Peter and Amy for visiting Kane County Farm Bureau and appreciating Kane County agriculture!

Letters of thanks from scholarship recipients

Thanks to the generosity of our members and donors, the KCFB Foundation awarded $27,000 in college scholarships for the 2022-23 school year. Scholarship recipients and their parents were recognized at an awards ceremony on July 15. Printed below are expressions of thanks received from some of this year's 18 scholarship recipients. The KCFB Foundation will publish one or two of these messages per month to share with our readers and donors the gratitude expressed by these students for YOUR generosity.

Dear Kane County Farm Bureau Foundation –

I am writing to express my sincere gratitude to you for making the Rodholm Charitable Trust Veterinary Scholarship possible. I was thrilled to learn of my selection for this honor.

I deeply appreciate your support of veterinary students. As I continue my veterinary education, I am so thankful to be receiving this scholarship. Through your support, it is possible for me to pursue my career goals.

Thank you again! Sincerely,

> Tess Cummings University of Illinois CVM Class of 2024 . . . . .

Dear Kane County Farm Bureau Foundation board –

Thank you so much for this generous scholarship. I am honored to be one of the 2022 recipients. This is especially meaningful to me as the son and grandson of lifelong farmers. Please know how much I appreciate it.

This scholarship will be assisting me with college tuition. This fall, I plan to attend the University of Missouri and study Agribusiness Management. It is my hope that the education I receive combined with my farming background will lay the foundation for a career in Ag business.

Northern Illinois has been my home my entire life. I feel blessed to have grown up in such a wonderful, generous, small community. After college I hope to come back and pay it forward with a path of service and involvement. Thanks again,

Colin Nesler

Local farms awarded mini-grants

From Kane County Connects Kane County is partnering with the Illinois Farmers Market Association (ILFMA) to match funds from the Chicago Regional Food System Fund to support greater equity and inclusion for all groups who have been, and still are, marginalized. Mini-grants provide resources to farmers, farmers markets, community organizations, and not for profits that serve Kane County's communities of color including Black, Indigenous, and People of Color (BIPOC). Celebrating its 10th Anniversary, ILFMA (https:// www.ilfma.org/) promotes local food production and consumption by offering Illinois farmers markets resources to grow healthier and economically vibrant communities.

ILFMA granted 12 awardees $1500 and on July 12, 2022 Kane County awarded a matching grant of $1500 for a total of $3000 for each recipient. ## $550,000 appropriation provides FFA dues for ag education students

The Illinois Department of Agriculture (IDOA) has announced that Future Farmers of America (FFA) dues for every student taking agriculture education classes across the state will be covered starting this fall. The $550,000 appropriation is spearheaded by State Senator Doris Turner.

It has been a priority of the Pritzker administration to make farming and agriculture more accessible, and these dollars help to diversify the make-up of the FFA organization. The elimination of dues makes Illinois a FFA affiliation membership state, ensuring every student that is enrolled in agricultural education will have FFA membership dues automatically paid, making them a FFA member. "In Illinois, we're making it so students can choose their extracurriculars based on what interests them the most, not what they can afford," said Governor Pritzker. "It's been a priority of mine to make agricultural education more accessible and widely recognized throughout my administration. It's why I signed into law two measures to include ag classes in our state college admission requirements, and it's why I'm proud to implement Senator Doris Turner's initiative to waive FFA membership fees for all Illinois students."

"I am proud to support the next generation of Illinois agricultural enthusiasts by helping alleviate the financial burden of membership dues," State Senator Doris Turner (D-Springfield) said. "The more bright minds we can bring in to help solve the agricultural problems of tomorrow, the better we all will be in the future."

Young Leaders update

The Young Farmers gathered at the Kane County Farm Bureau on Thursday, June 16th for pizza and a quick chat. Kelcee Miller discussed past Farm Bureau, Foundation, and Ag Literacy events. Carolyn Gehrke-Brummel gave a District 1 Report update and the group Discussion Meet that will take place on August 15th at 6:00pm at the DeKalb County Farm Bureau.

Other new business discussed was the finalizing of details for their Little Lending Library, needs for the Pollinator-Rain Garden expansion later this month, as well as the status of the Vintage Truck Raffle that will be auctioned off on October 13th, 2022.

AG LITERACY CORNER

By Kelcee Miller, Development & Ag Literacy Program Coordinator

Hello Kane County!

By the time you are reading this article, there will be roughly four months of the year left. Four months! Can you believe that? Like Smash Mouth said, "The years start coming and they don't stop comin," and this year of all years seems to certainly be flying by!

How has your year gone up until this point? Are you holding yourself accountable to your goals, values, and beliefs you set whether it is personally, pro#### fessionally, financially, emotionally, etc.? If yes, great! Keep up the hard work and keep that momentum going! And if your answer is not so confident that's okay! There is still plenty of time to get things back on track! Now is the perfect time to dial in your focus and sprint hard to the finish line!

So with this short sprint ahead, ask yourself, what does your life look like? What does your career look like? What does your living situation look like? What kind of partner or friend group are you with? What do you

Book of the month

Did you know beef provides us with more than just a juicy tender steak or a delicious hamburger? Many different products and by-products of beef cattle can be found in your home such as soaps, cosmetics, clothes and pantry! Let's get moovin' to the good stuff!

The book of the month for August is a jam packed, informative book by Susan Anderson and JoAnne Buggey, Beef Cattle in the Story of Agriculture.

Agri-Culture, Agri for short is the tour guide for readers throughout the book about all things beef cattle. Agri breaks down each stop throughout the journey into the five main parts of agriculture: production, processing, distribution, marketing, and consumerism. With Agri's expertise, readers will learn about beef cattle from beginning to end!

With each and every page, Anderson and Buggey have provided readers with an understanding of agricultural vocabulary, interesting facts, and fun "did you know" facts about beef under each of the five domains of agriculture. From learning about the different breeds of cattle, how and why cattle can eat so much, different cuts of beef we see in the supermarket, to the by-products of beef we use on a daily basis, readers will have a greater appreciation beef and for the men and women who play a role in process of beef cattle from the barn to your household!

To learn about beef cattle, come on in to the Kane County Farm Bureau FREE KCFB Library and check out Beef Cattle in the Story of Agriculture. The Kane County Farm Bureau Library was made possible by Bob Konen and Dean Dunn, and later supported by the Bob Konen Family.

hope to accomplish or work towards? How do you want to feel and think? I encourage you to sit down and really think about where you want to be at the end of the year - bring those thoughts, feelings, and images to life by writing or drawing them out. There is great power in visualization and manifestation.

I think too often we get into these coast modes in life where we just go with the flow without much control of the wheel or we are too busy looking in the rear view mirror and sooner or later we will crash. If we continue to coast we will never accomplish what we truly want and desire out of life and if we spend too much time focused on the past we will not receive new outcomes and will miss the gift here in the present. Just like driving a car, achieving our goals and success in every aspect of our lives requires forward focus, a detailed route of how we are going to get there, and an end destination of where we want to be.

I was guilty of living on cruise control without even knowing it. Sure, I was working hard towards my yearly goals and having some fun along the way, but I spent too much time coasting until one day it all hit me, hard! I knew I wanted more for myself and more out of my life. I didn't want to settle for a life that I was not truly happy or fulfilled with, so I took control of the wheel again. I dialed in my focus forward, wrote out what I wanted to achieve, and hit the gas pedal!

I encourage you all to take some time to reflect on how your year has gone so far and how you want to finish the last few months. There is plenty of time to accomplish great things, learn something new, and become an improved you! Dial in that focus and hit the gas!

Happy August!

Compiled by Kelcee Miller, Ag Literacy Coordinator

Beef cattle spend most of their lives on the farm. Calves are weaned at 6-10 months of age. After the calves are no longer dependent on their mothers for food, they are fed a diet with a mix of grass and grain-based foods (including grass in the pasture during the summer and hay in the winter). Their balanced diets are often prescribed by animal nutritionists to provide the best quality of meat.

Once they reach market weight (usually 1,200-1,400 pounds), cattle are taken to the processor in semi-trucks which are special by providing a safe and comfortable environment for livestock during transportation.

Once the meat has been harvested and processed, the USDA's Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) inspects all meat to ensure it is safe, accurately labeled, and correctly packaged. This process enables you to have the safe, high-quality meat you need.

· Storing your meat in the proper way is super important when providing the best steaks in town. Beef products are known for how easily they freeze. Products can be frozen in their original packaging but should be transferred to airtight packaging to preserve the great quality.

· Use the Illinois Beef Directory to store your favorite cuts in your freezer all year round! https://www.illinoisbeef.com/membership/ local-beef-directory.

Scenes from July KCFB Foundation Scholarship ceremony & Cougars game

After a stormy July 15th day, the weather cleared enough for baseball to begin! Eight KCFB 2022-23 scholarship recipients and their families, along with supporters of the KCFB Foundation scholarship program, gathered for an evening of food, fellowship and baseball at Northwestern Medicine Field in Geneva.

American Farmland Trust (AFT) will start taking applications July 13 for a new Illinois Cover Crop Initiative (ICCI) program. The program is a partnership of AFT, Archer Daniels Midland, the Natural Resources Service (NRCS), National Fish and Wildlife Foundation and Farmers Business Network.

ICCI incentives will be available to an estimated 400 farmers enrolling up to a total of 75,000 acres. The acres may have previously been planted in cover crops. Contracts will be awarded on a first-come, firstserved basis until 75,000 acres are enrolled.

Incentives include annual $10 per acre payments with technical assistance in collaboration with farmers' trusted retail partners and conservation organizations.

Farmers have an option to sign contracts for one, two, three or four years and will be required to follow NRCS standards and specifications for managing cover crops.

Amendments

variance by the Kane County Zoning Board of Appeals, there would not need to be a variance under the draft amendments.

If approved, the proposed amendments will reduce the minimum lot size for farmstands, expand the number districts where farmstands are allowed, eliminate recurring permits, expand the potential activities for farmstands that require a special use, and make farmstands possible for farmers that specialize in one or two crops. These changes, along with a new definition for agri-

AFT will work with farmers to complete contract paperwork and reduce the time burden. Acres offered for ICCI cannot be enrolled in another privately funded ecosystem market program but may be part of federal and state cost-share programs.

Enrolled farmers will selfcertify planted cover crop acres at their local Farm Service Agency office on Form 578. The information will include number of acres seeded, cover crop variety and the date.

The application period will close Dec. 31, although applications are encouraged before the end of August.

As a part of the program, AFT will quantify economic and environmental benefits to be shared with farmers, ADM, NRCS and the other partners. Technical assistance will be available to anyone interested in cover crops if they participate ICCI or not.

Information on the program and the application portal is available at farmland.org/project/icci. Additional questions may be emailed to AFT at icci@farmland.org.

The AFT Illinois program is part of a $2.6 million grant announced May 24 by ADM, NRCS, National Fish and Wildlife Foundation and Farm Business Network to accelerate adoption of cover crops in Illinois and five other Midwestern states. Other recipients include Ducks Unlimited, Kansas Association of Districts, Conservation Minnesota Soil Health Coalition and Practical Farmers of Iowa.

occupation for residents preparing cottage foods.

Together, these proposed amendments are intended to help the Kane County Board achieve the policy goals proposed in its Growing for Kane initiative by supporting small food farms and local farm to table sales. As outlined in the Growing for Kane Health Impact Assessment, encouraging more local food production and consumption can result in better health outcomes for Kane County residents as well as grow the local economy.

Working with the Kane County Farm Bureau, the County of Kane hopes to publish these proposed text amendments for comments through a link or QR code in the September issue of the Kane County Farmer. Stay tuned!

like Grandpa did – from birth on both grass and grain, providing a combination of flavor and quality that is signature of Americanraised beef. The main difference: We raise beef more efficiently with improved genetics and growth technologies. Within the last 60 years, the U.S. beef industry has reduced emissions per pound of beef by more than 40% while producing 60% more beef per animal, according to the National Cattlemen's Beef Association. A top protein source, beef also supplies 10 essential nutrients like iron, zinc and B-vitamins. And cattle farmers care, making beef a meal choice to feel great about.

My family does. On weekends, a couple chuck roasts smoke low and slow for nine hours for a barbecue-inspired meal. I equally love my timesaving microwave cooker, which takes a pound of ground beef from frozen to browned in 7.5 minutes for a quick taco meal. Under-rated for nutrition, ground beef contains eight times more Vitamin B12, six times more zinc and more than two times more iron compared to chicken.

While we may feast on our own farm-raised beef, so do those who shop grocery stores or dine at restaurants. We raise only a couple calves to process locally for freezer beef. Most of our cattle are sold at market, destined as beef for restaurants and grocery stores, providing the nutrition-packed protein for those who lack the space or desire to buy beef in bulk.

While grocery store shoppers have the option to buy certain cuts repeatedly, we live on the variety and quantity of steaks, roasts and ground products that cut from a quarter of the animal. That means the deep freezer in the garage dictates homecooked meals around our house. We welcome the annual summertime replenishment of freezer beef, which resets the menu.

About the author: Joanie Stiers farms with her family in west-central Illinois, where they grow corn, soybeans, wheat, hay and cover crops and raise beef cattle, backyard chickens and farmkids.

Putting a new twist on the bookmobile concept, Gladys Arnold tows the Little Lending Library from the Kane County Fairgrounds next door to the Kane County Farm Bureau with a riding mower, a method easier than loading it on a trailer, while KCFB President Joe White walks beside to stabilize the barn. See story on page 1.

Fun and fundraising at the Kane County Fair

Fairgoers to the KCFB "space" at this year's Kane County Fair assisted the Farm Bureau's not-for-profit Foundation raise funds for college scholarships and agricultural literacy though skills contests, bucket raffles and our annual Vintage Truck Raffle. In the photo below, KCFB Foundation Directors Bob Gehrke of Elgin assists a group in filling out tickets for the Vintage Truck Raffle while they watch the activities offered in the skills contests, putting, chipping, a bean bag toss and free throws.

KCFB Foundation appreciates the participation of all fairgoers in these FUNdraising activities. 2022 Bucket Raffle winners are listed at left. The Vintage Truck Raffle will conclude with a drawing on Thursday, October 13 following the Fay's drive-thru BBQ at the Kane County Farm Bureau from 4-7 pm.

Don't miss out on īresh

The Kane County Farm Bureau is now taking orders for juicy, homegrown

Peaches fresh from Rendleman Orchards, a southern Illinois grower.

These delicious peaches are washed, hydro-cooled, graded to US #1 Extra, 2-1/2 inches and up in size, approximately 60 packaged in a 25 lb wax coated fancy box with a lid. They are delivered to our office on Randall Road the morning of pickup in a refrigerated truck for freshness and long lasting quality.

New add-on options this year - Rendleman Orchards Aunt Wesie's Old Fashioned Cobbler Mix or Rendleman Orchards Peach Crisp Mix. Each option has an easy-to-make mix for two, 8x8" cobblers or crisps or one, large 9x13". Each mix package is $7.99.

The grower recommends the peaches, which are available in the month of August, for their sweetness and juicy flavor. If you like to make peach pie or cobbler, or you like to can or freeze peaches, now is the time to take advantage of this once a year offer.

Peaches are highly perishable. They are shipped when they are a little green so that when they arrive they are not bruised with juice running out of the box. The grower recommends that the peaches be refrigerated immediately when you get them unless you are planning to can or freeze them within the next day. Then when you want to use them, you can take out however many you think you will use in the next day, let them sit out in a paper sack overnight, and they should be ripe and ready to eat or cook with. Peaches should not be out of the refrigerator for more than 24 hours. If they are left out too long, they are very susceptible to mold.
