Food for Tomorrow

FOOD FORWARD

Kane County Farm Bureau FOUNDATION

FOOD>Forward is an initiative to raise funds for classroom education about food and farming & to provide college scholarships for local students studying for careers in agriculture. There will be 2 billion more people to feed globally by 2050. It is estimated that between 2015 and 2020, there will be appr. 57,900 annual openings for careers within agriculture. Statistics show a gap of 22,500 college grads annually for jobs in agriculture related fields.

The best way to meet the global food challenge is for farming, agriculture and food policy to attract and retain the best minds. Support of FOOD>Forward funds classroom outreach, getting kids excited about the industry and teaching them how their food is raised. It also provides dozens of annual college scholarships for students in ag majors.

Raffle Fundraisers

The Winner's Choice Tractor Raffle is the Foundation's biggest fundraiser. In 2016, the raffle gave our supporters a chance at winning one of four prizes. The grand prize winner could choose between a 1947 Farmall Super A, a 1953 Farmall Super C, a John Deere X300 riding mower, or $2,500 cash. Other prizes included food, fuel, and Farm Bureau Bucks. Thanks to the support of Kane County Farm Bureau, my experience at UIUC has been outstanding. The university has truly become a home to me and has offered me many different opportunities. I am truly grateful to be involved in Sigma Alpha, Hoof 'n Horns, Pre-Veterinary Club, Phi Eta Sigma and several other organizations. It has been a great experience meeting professors and learning about all of the experiences that are ahead of me.
